Hunting for Elk, Deer, Bear and Moose with fly fishing in Montana

This outfitter offers a hunting and fishing adventure in Northwest Montana's Bob Marshall Wilderness Area. The "Bob" contains more than one million acres of rugged wilderness beauty untouched by roads of any kind. The only way to access the wilderness is on foot or horseback. The outfitter will personally guide you, in limited groups of 6 - 8, so you get their full personal attention, and so the bountiful fishing, hunting and natural beauty is preserved for generations to come. Groups take guided 10 day trips, which include 8 days of actual hunting.

All hunts are for combination deer, elk, moose and bear plus fishing opportunities are available whenever you like.

Elk Hunting: early season rifle hunt in September when Elk are in the rut. Bugling a bull out of the brush will be an experience you'll never forget. You will find that trophy mule deer roam the ridges, whitetail deer populate the river bottoms, and occasionally we hunt an expanded area and stay in remote spike camps. Horses will take you most of the way, and hunting is then on foot.

*Experienced and familiar guides

*Average shot distance is less than 200 yards, some as close as 30 feet

*Most game taken within 2 miles from base camp

*Elevations range from 4400 to 8000 feet

Accommodations are usually large wall tents with comfortable cots and warm wood stoves. Hearty meals will be served family style to tame any wilderness size appetite.

Hunting Dates: Hunts start September 15th and run to November.

We offer 7 and 9 day trips along with seven-day and nine day 2 x 1 fully guided trips.

1 x 1 Hunting Trips: (4-5 per year) a professional Montana hunting guide will personally work with you in designing the kind of 1x1 trips you would like. Hunt for Trophy Deer and Elk on this Montana hunting adventure for 10 days. This is a higher percentage hunt during the bugle season, spiked out in some very remote areas.
