If you are looking for a trophy mule deer but don't want to pay for a trophy hunt, unless you get a trophy size mule deer here is an option called "Pay for Performance."

Because of this we have a $ 6250.00 deer hunt. Then we write it up as a $ 3500 deer hunt to see what the weather and Mother Nature provides us a opportunity to see and that your shot is good. If you shoot a buck then a $3000 trophy fee is required, if you decide you don't like what Mother Nature is providing and don't shoot a deer then the 5 day hunt was only $ 3495. As you see we dropped the total hunt down another $ 250 because we feel this is a fair way of doing business.

If you are looking to hunt whitetail, mule deer, antelope, or elk, Montana is the right place, and is the right company. We strive to provide an atmosphere of home cooked meals, comfortable lodging, and a friendly guide staff that will make you feel at home during your stay with us. We run a very high rate of repeat business boast a very high hunter success rate, and we are very proud of both. As a general overview, Milk River Outfitters is a full service guide team in Northeastern Montana. We, at hold service as our most noteworthy mission. We offer 100% fair chase big game hunting for Whitetail Deer, Mule Deer, and Rocky Mountain Elk, and Pronghorn Antelope. Additionally, we provide some of the best services for upland bird hunts, water fowling, and antler shed hunts in the United States.

Mule Deer in the wild can reach a weight of up to 250 pounds. Able to leap up to ten feet in the air while running, they can reach speeds of 40 miles per hour and change directions on a dime. Bucks normally begin antler development and growth, largely dependent on the genetics, nutrition and age of the deer, in February or March and continue until mid to late August. During spring and summer, antlers are growing at an awesome rate, with large bucks gaining mass at a rate of up to a quarter of an inch per day.

Mule Deer hunting in Montana may be one of the most exhilarating hunts that we offer. Whether you are hunting with archery equipment or a gun, we use a wide variety of tactics to get you close to your trophy. We also will use spot and stalking for archery and gun hunts during the day. Evening hunts, especially archery hunts, have even seen us utilizing whitetail tactics through placement of tree stands near food plots and travel corridors. By far, most professional hunters will tell you that the toughest trophy to collect with archery equipment is a mature "Mulie" buck. Our clients usually experience several stalks per day on P&Y class animals. Our mule deer gun hunts are probably one of our best hunts with most of our clients taking deer in the 20-24 inch range. Our success rate is 100% on this hunt.

We can provide licensing information after the deposit is paid so you can make the March 15th deadline for license applications. For those of you that hunted with us in the past and took advantage of the Outfitter sponsored tags, that program is no longer available. Details about your options for the general draw for Elk and Deer tags are available.

Our Limited Trophy Mule deer hunt is kept limited so that we can depend on having trophy bucks year after year. Because of that we usually have our booking filled 1 year in advance. We apologize for that but it is a rule we stick to for obvious reasons. One other thing that we provide in fairness to everyone is our trophy mule deer pricing structure. These are free ranging animal that by the time they make the preferred 180 class lever they know the ropes very well. They may not always provide a standing broad side shot. The weather is always a factor if it is a nice day to be outside is it probably too hot for the bucks so they move very little. The worse the weather the better the hunts was said by a man with a lot of bucks under his belt and chapped lips. Snow and cold requires the deer to move for food and thermo cover plus wind breaks. They are also not as alert as they are on a clear blue day.

Because of this we have a $ 6250.00 deer hunt. Then we write it up as a $ 3500 deer hunt to see what the weather and Mother Nature provides us a opportunity to see and that your shot is good. With that said 60% of our bucks last year were over 180. The other bucks taken were close enough that the hunters decided they were close enough and took them.

We would like to think that we treat you like one of our own. Because of this belief and philosophy, we only take a limited number of hunters each year. By doing this, we can do our best to make you feel at home and get the most enjoyable outdoor and hunting experience possible.
