White-tailed deer and black bear hunting packages in Saskatchewan, Canada

Located in central Saskatchewan, Canada, our immense hunting territory is a favored habitat for white-tailed deer and black bears with valleys and streams situated on the edge of the Canadian boreal forest and bordered by agricultural land. Our land covers a vast 450 square kilometers (174 square miles) and the game found here is substantial and abundant. Our camp is comfortable and well-equipped, the food is magnificent and our staff is qualified and friendly and our success rate is high. No fences, no motels and, above all, great home-made meals. Now that's the recipe for the success of our hunting outfitter! Our clients leave delighted by their adventure, already planning their return for their next hunting trip.

mild for several years and the province's white-tailed deer population therefore continues to grow. In some cases bucks reach maturity without ever having encountered humans. Very few places in the world can boast of harboring trophy class deer such as those found in Saskatchewan, which also happens to hold the world record for the largest white-tailed deer felled by Milo Hanson on November 23, 1993 with a total score of over 213 points Boone and Crockett.

Located in central Saskatchewan, our vast territory constitutes a favored habitat for white-tailed deer with its valleys and streams bordered by the Canadian boreal forest and agricultural land.

Western Trophy Outfitters enjoys a large deer population and numerous trophy class specimens with massive antlers have been harvested with the largest registering 205 Boone and Crockett points. We are proud to operate a 450-square kilometer territory where the big game often reaches trophy class. Just the same, not all of our clients will be able to leave with their dream trophy because everyone has their own idea of what constitutes the trophy of their dreams. To that end, before shooting, we would ask that you ensure that the game in your line of sight corresponds to what you are seeking. If that is not the case, patience is probably in order. If you are seeking a guaranteed hunting adventure, we suggest that you go where the game is fenced in. Although we can boast a 90 percent success rate, the only guarantee we can offer is that we will do our very best to send you home satisfied. Keep in mind that a large number of our hunters return regularly and hunt only the biggest game. As a result, numerous deer that don't qualify in that class are passed over each year. We hope that our clients harvest trophy class game and the quality of the game captured is, in our eyes, far more important than the quantity.

Your adventure with us

You should make your flight arrangements to arrive in Saskatoon no later than 10:00 on Saturday morning so that a member of our staff can meet you directly at the airport and transfer you to the outfitter. After a two-and-a-half hour drive, you will arrive to our camp where you will immediately feel at home. You will be greeted as a friend by our highly qualified personnel whose primary goal is to ensure that you have a successful hunting trip while taking care of the numerous details that will make your stay an unforgettable adventure. Typically, our groups consist of six hunters.

You will hunt from Sunday until Friday night. Early in the morning, after a full and hearty breakfast, you will leave camp with your guide who will bring you by truck and ATV to your strategic hunting location. You will bring along your lunch, which you will have chosen from a variety of healthy and nutritious foods. You will also have a portable two-way radio that we will have supplied to you upon your arrival which will allow you to remain in contact with your guide at all times. Note that cellular phones work in certain areas only. Your guide will set you up in your hunting blind and if the weather is particularly cold we will arrange heating for your comfort. The majority of our tree stands are set up for a shooting range of 50 to 125 yards. Adult white-tailed deer are imposing and weigh more than 300 pounds, therefore we recommend using at least a 270-caliber rifle. By the end of the day, your guide will take you back to the camp where a nice fire will warm you up and a great home-made meal will be waiting for you to be shared with your hunting companions, each one of them of course having their very own hunting story to tell.

The cape and antlers of your hunting trophy will be prepared by your guide according to your wishes. Early Saturday morning, a member of our staff will drive you to the airport in Saskatoon for the departure of your return flight.

Our white-tailed deer hunting calendar

To learn more about the regulatory arms (rifle, bow, crossbow or muzzleloader) depending on your hunting dates and whether you are a Canadian resident or non-resident, please refer to the section "Practical Information". Please note that white-tailed deer/black bear hunting combos might also be available in September and October.

Black bear hunting at our outfitter in Saskatchewan About black bear hunting

Saskatchewan is one of the Canadian provinces that harbors the most trophy class black bears. Located in central Saskatchewan, our vast territory comprises a favored habitat of black bear with its valleys and streams bordered by the Canadian boreal forest and agricultural land. With a 95 percent success rate, Western Trophy Outfitters is without a doubt the place to go for hunters seeking an exceptional adventure. These days, black bear is sought for its great size, its ferocious nature, the beauty and color of its fur, and because it represents a true challenge for any hunter.

Among trophy class specimens, the size of the animal's skull is more significant than its weight. While a mature bear that measures 6-feet to 6 and a half feet and weights 250 to 300 pounds with a 20-inch skull is considered a respectable size, we are proud to note that at Western Trophy Outfitters we have harvested giants over 7-feet tall, weighing up to 400 pounds, and that our record skull size is 21 inches Pope and Young.

To the great delight of hunters, the bear's coat of fur is lush and its color runs from black to blonde, with a variety of tints including chocolate, brown and cinnamon. These color variations are typically found in the western part of the country and a great number of colored bears are harvested every year at our camp. Your adventure with us

Bringing firearms into Canada

Since January 2001, according to the Firearms Act, visitors/non-residents must complete a declaration to bring a firearm into Canada. The Non-Resident Firearms Declaration (form CAFC 909 EF) and its continuation sheet must be presented in triplicate. The form is available on the Web site of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at www.rcmp-grc.gc.ca/cfp-pcaf.

To expedite the process at the point of entry, please fill in the declaration form in advance. However, the form must be presented unsigned to the customs officer at your first point of entry into Canada because your signature must be witnessed by a customs officer. When the customs officer of the Canadian border agency has confirmed your declaration, it will serve as your license and temporary registration certificate for all firearms you bring into Canada. The declaration is valid for 60 days.

It costs $25 for a certified declaration, regardless of the number of firearms that are listed. The declaration is valid only for the person who signs it and only for the registered weapons in the declaration.

Should you need any additional information regarding your firearms, please do not hesitate to contact the RCMP by phone at 1-800-731-4000, by email at pcaf-cfp@rcmp-grc.gc.ca or by fax at (613) 825-0297.

Documents required to enter Canada

To visit Canada, U.S. citizens or foreigners must hold a valid passport. Depending on your country of origin, you might also need a visa. We suggest you check with the proper authorities of your Government and/or with the Embassy or Canadian Consulate nearest to you what are the exact documents that are required for your entry to Canada. Air carriers must ensure that you have valid travel documents when you enter Canada. If you do not have appropriate documents, boarding may be refused to you. Your travel agent can also advise you adequately on the matter.

The weather in Saskatchewan

Saskatchewan enjoys a climate with four distinct seasons. The average temperature ranges between -25 degrees Celsius (-13 degrees Fahrenheit) in winter and 25 °C (77 °F) in summer. In winter, average temperatures vary between 0 and -24 °C (32 and -11.2 °F) and in summer, between 15 and 30 °C (59 and 86 °F).

Saskatchewan lies far from any body of water of significant size. With its northern location, the province has a temperate continental climate in the center. It is the sunniest province in Canada, the second receiving less snow per year (145 cm – 8.85 in) and whose summer is the warmest (22 C - 71.6 F), and the fourth receiving less precipitation in the year (428 mm - 1.4 ft).

We strongly recommend that you bring warm, silent and quality clothing as those offered by Raven Wear whose reputation is well established. You will get information on all their products by viewing their website www.ravenwear.ca. Warm and comfortable clothing will definitely allow you to concentrate on the game rather than on the cold weather, especially during the deer hunting season, therefore ensuring you a better chance of success.

Wounded animal policy

If an animal is wounded and not recovered immediately your hunt will stop until your guide/outfitter decides differently. We need enough time to make every effort possible to retrieve wounded animals before your hunt can continue. This is the law for hunting in Saskatchewan and it stops the unnecessary waste of big game animals. Western Trophy Outfitters respects and applies the game laws of Saskatchewan and we ask our hunters to do the same. We thank them for their understanding.

It is around a well-provisioned dinner table that hunters gather to talk about their respective adventures, not to mention their close calls, and form new friendships. When it comes to meals, our policy is clear: quality, variety and choice. For breakfast and lunch our clients can choose for themselves from a menu and a buffet. As for dinner, you're in for a treat. Our cook will prepare for you with expertise and variety a delicious home cooked meal. Clients with food allergies are asked to advise us of their condition and needs when making their reservation.

We will stop at nothing to satisfy our client's needs. Our camp is comfortable, the staff is warm and friendly, and the food is excellent and plentiful.

After a long day of hunting nothing will beat a fire and a great meal served among friends who share the same passion.
