

Hunt ID: CO-5153

ARCHERS, have this Ranch/Farm to yourself to share with the elk and your bow in hand. You will be hunting toward the base of the Famous Spanish peaks, a strong-hold of local Elk in September with a high number of cows for bait, which bring in the bulls from all direction. In addition, did I mention that there is farmer flooded irrigated Rye, Barley and Wheat on your agricultural property so he can graze other cattle in there in January, on whatever the elk leave for them, anyway. You hunt is a mixture of habitats, pine and spruce timber, aspens, small open parks, some sage and some cactus to cover all the elk food groups and plenty of local elk in the month of September.

As far as licenses the Archery License is available over the counter. The Muzzleloader Bull requires 2 points as in most of the state. The Muzzleloader Cow is a draw, but Usually Watchdog can get you a License.

This ranch has not had an archer in durring the rut for 5 years, so as a meeting place for the rut there are generations of bulls, and cows call this their place for September socializing and come from all direction.

Water is gold in this area, the River and Solar wells provide year around water and the elk know it. In the summer before the snow falls in October or November it is there water source. This and the green crop land have built calving grounds for the cows and after calving it is a great place to raise a calf, minimal predators due to ranch property, 140 acres of green agriculture, with flowing water. They stay there all summer and when August turns to September it gets even better because they are still there, and the bulls know it, and come to this location due to the large number of cows with calves in the area of easy living.

Easy walking for elk property with altitudes ranging from approximately 7,000 to 8,000 it is an easier altitude to adjust to if you are coming from a lower altitude. In most people arrive a day early, then take it easy the first day and you will have your breath back at this low altitude. The fix for altitude sickness is to drive a couple of miles to the lower altitude to let your body adjust, there is no after effect then return to where you were and take it slower, even take a nap. There are also certain medications over the counter that you can take that work well. This is lower than 80% of the elk hunting locations so many can enjoy it from the get-go.

QAs as far as licenses the Archery License is available over the counter. The Muzzleloader Bull requires 2 points as in most of the state. The Muzzleloader Cow is a draw, but usually Watchdog can get you a License.

Because of the food sources, no outside disturbance the cows have calving grounds there provide an easy living area for the cows to have their calves and to use this as their home territory for the summer, and be in their best condition when the boy arrive.

The cow calls to the calf and the bulls arriving makes the chaos that every archer dream of.

This not a Guided hunt. This is a Semi-Guided hunt. It is priced like a DIY Hunt, but the landowner is there to provide you the additional advantage that you need. He will also assist you in getting your bull out after the hunt. He will advise you of the property boundaries, Where the elk customarily water, and of course feed, but include where they day bed.

This is a Private Land Walk In Area. The area has very few roads, which is also why the elk feel comfortable and safe here. You can use the roads with a vehicle for game retrieval. You will be hunting in GMU085 west of Trinidad, Colorado. The owner only will allow 2 people to hunt the 2nd week of the archery season and the 4th week of the September season. You will be the first people hunting on the property for 5 years this year, camo up, use the landowner's informant, get scent proof, then go into stealth mode, and start patterning elk.

One end of the property is adjacent to state property which allows elk to be pushed into your area but of course not hunters.

The fence, signs and natural barriers stops hunter from coming in, but of course does not even slow down the elk. You could say you are in the honey hole of thousands of acres, your thousand acres core area for these elk. The landowner will not come into your ranch, so he does not spook any of your elk. In fact if anyone does sneak in from any direction for any reason you have the right to kick them out, if you can get a name the landowner will press charges, If you call or text him about the problem he will come in to handle the problem if you would rather. He will come in to where you tell him to meet you, cell call or text. There are few roads so It may take a while for him to get to you, it is your call, however you want to handle it.

Lodging is a long distance away; The Landowner has friends that provide local lodging at exceptionally good rates. There are only a few but if you do not book early enough the quickly fill up. Camper, trailer, or tent is also allowed but primitive so plan on bringing your own water. There are no useable blinds on the property, but you are welcome to bring one if you wish.
