Great Mule Deer and Whitetail hunting, Rifle, Bow or Muzzleloader

Animal size expected: Mule Deer 4x4 to 5x5 & Whitetail or Mule Deer 8-12 point

Opportunity/success: 99% opportunity 99% success.

Once you draw the Prestigious MULE DEER license in Nebraska's Frenchman Unit, you have done all the work and with luck like that you should put some money in your favorite Lottery. You are the, "Chosen one."

Watchdog® Can provide you with a Mule Deer point, as required to draw a license for a Mule Deer, but no points can be purchased without the correct unique process that is only in this area of the whole state of Nebraska, then get you a rut rifle Whitetail license, (11-12-11/12) a any deer archery license (9/1-12/31), or a Muzzleloader and Mule Deer or Whitetail license, (12/1-12/31) automatically in the same year. Yes, a point and a license all in the same year. Watchdog also has a 50% success rate of getting a Mule Deer License with 0 Point in the Frenchman Unit. This area is the number 1 trophy Mule Deer and Whitetail area in the whole state of Nebraska. The state only lots 7% of the licenses to Non-Residents. Since the residents do not get into this, Pearl on the Plains”, hunting access is very limited, and the landowner only provides access to very few hunters. Watchdog has ways to get you licenses even through a extremely unique and complicated process. This is the only place not only in the state of Nebraska but in the whole US that does this, and has to do it, because of the demand for the Mule Deer in this region. I am sorry that Nebraska has made this so difficult for non-residents but Watchdog can cove this license acquiring nightmare for you while you sleep at home during the night without a care in the world, then receive you license and point update in your email. This is what most hunters lack, the ability to get licenses that are out of everyone else’s reach.

Currently it is requiring 2-3 points to draw the Frenchman Unit and the Mule Deer population the highest in the state. You are hunting in a place that Nebraska calls its “Mule Deer Jewel.” There are 3 units in Nebraska that the licenses draw out every year and they are in what is called the Mule Deer Conservation Area (MDCA). Three Units make up this prestigious area. The Frenchman Unit, The Platte Unit and the Buffalo Unit all sandwiched in the South West Corner of the state of Nebraska. These 3 units have more deer hunting rules than all oo the units in the rest of the state put together. The larges part is differentiating between Mule Deer Rules. For example, shoot a Mule Deer Doe, and you would have been better off shooting your neighbor. Shoot a whitetail doe, is acceptable, they give you a free whitetail doe license with your Mule Deer license.

Bucks of 170 plus have been taken on this prime ranch holding just less than 3000 acres of corn, river bottom, untouched habitat and winter wheat. To keep the hunt price down we have just supplied a guided hunt of the well managed deer concentrated land. The Outfitter and guide are the farmer himself with many years under his belt from living, farming, ranching, hunting, guiding and outfitting on this precious Mule Deer Mecca.

The two hunts are completely different.

Guided Mule Deer Hunt

The Mule Deer hunt is a guided hunt with no meals or lodging. They can be found about 30 minutes away from the hunt. The outfitter will assist you with phone numbers for reservations. Book the hunt early and make your reservations early because motels and restaurants are as rare as hen’s teeth in this country.

The hunt is a 2 on 1 three-day hunt, if you wish more days, they can be purchased at $250 per day per person.

Recommended is a 25-caliber rifle or larger that is flat shooting. The land is restively open so it may be a 50-yard shot or a 300-yard shot at the buck of your choice. Plan on wind in the afternoon and possibly in the morning as well. Temperatures can be as high as 70 and as low as 0 degrees during a 2 or 3 day stretch. This is a "Low Impact Hunt so you don't need to plan on an all-day walking session. Most of it is drive, glass, spot then get out of the vehicle and stalk in for a shot.

Your guide will aid you with the range and after a good shot and field dress the buck for you. He will aid you in locations for you to take your buck to be processed.

Semi-Guided Whitetail Deer Hunt

It has been said that in the Mule Deer Conservation area the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission (NGPC) treat the whitetail deer as the ugly red headed stepchild. This area is the last strong hold for the mule deer to survive and thrive with antlers to show their old age. Because of this the Mule Deer license is difficult to draw, while the whitetail license is easy to draw, and doesn't require any points. In fact, in Nebraska in the Frenchman unit you can have a Mule Deer Buck License and a whitetails Buck license as well. This allows you to take advantage of the situation and go home with 2 deer instead of just one.

You will be on a semi-Guided whitetail hunt. The guide will provide you with all the intel that he has from living and hunting on this 2000 acres of corn, river bottoms and wheat. The whitetail generally spends their daytime hours in the river bottom cover but move in and out of it to feed in the morning and evenings, they have specific trails that they follow unless spooked for they travel. Of course, the river bottom has live water so there is no reason for them to ever leave the area. They will go around you without you even seeing them though.

On a Semi-Guided hunt, we give our best estimate of the size of the deer you will take home. This calculation has 1 missing factor, which is you. Some hunters have years of experience and others hunt once per year. The land is the same but of course the experienced hunters will average better when it comes to the deer, he takes home, on the average.

With that said there is one thing that we can't estimate on is your skills. If you are an average hunter you will take home an 8-point whitetail. If you are better than average, then a 10 point could be in your sights. 160-180 whitetails are available to the ones that are talented in their hunting skills.

To keep the hunt price down we have just provided this hunt as at a DIY or Trespass fee hunt price but have increased the landowner's requirements. He is required to take you on the land, show you his property fences, show you where the whitetail deer feed, bed and water, as well as tell you where he sees them the most. With this he also provides you with his cell phone number so you can call with any questions that you may have later. Remember though come Saturday morning you are hunting alone. One person makes less noise than two people, so it works out well if you are just quiet.

Like the Mule Deer there are no meals or lodging. They can be found about 30 minutes away from the hunt. The outfitter will aid you with phone numbers for reservations. Book the hunt early and make your reservations early because motels and restaurants are as rare as hen's teeth in this country.

The hunt is a 2 on 1 three-day hunt, if you wish more days, they can be purchased at $250 per day per person.

Recommended is a 25-caliber rifle or larger that is flat shooting. The land is restively open so it may be a 50-yard shot or a 300-yard shot at the buck of your choice, in the river bottom or across the corn field. Plan on wind in the afternoon and possibly in the morning as well. Temperatures can be as high as 70 and as low as 0 Degrees during a 2 or 3 day stretch. This is a "Low Impact Hunt so you don't need to plan on an all-day walking session. Most of it is setting up watching a crossing or feeding area. Whitetail hunting is 10x more successful if you sit hidden and let the whitetail deer come to you then to travel and try to walk to the whitetail deer.

Your guide will aid you with as to the places that are good to quietly sit and watch.

You will need to field dress your own deer, but the landowner will aid you in finding a place to have you deer processed or a taxidermist. Most would be in McCook or North Platte.

This year he is going to only allow 6 whitetail deer hunters but will allow 4 of them to shoot a second whitetail Buck each instead of just 1. The extra whitetail will require a second $ 239 license from the. This is only for a total of 4 slots for the opener during the run in Mid-November.

The licenses are easy to get over the internet if you start early before they sell out.

Enjoy Nebraska's 1 or 2 buck deer harvest! Nebraska and Texas are the only states that allow a hunter to take 2 buck deer per year.

December 1 – 31, Archery is mid-October to December 31st. No archery deer hunting during the rifle season for safety reasons. You will be hunting in the Frenchman unit which is difficult to get a license for Mule Deer. In all cases a doe mule deer is highly protected as the state battles the encroachment of whitetail deer in an area that was predominately Mule deer in the past. The river bottom area you will be hunting is 90% whitetail anyway, so it all works out for licensing. The Highlands property is 90% Mule Deer.

HUNTERS can fly into North Platte or Denver and drive to the hunting location

A Self-Contained Camping Trailer is OK on the property or a tent. November can have beautiful warm weather or cold and snowy. ATV are allowed but should be used at a minimum because it spooks the deer. Best transportation vehicle for hunting is a 4 wheel drive pickup truck.

Meat processing is available in several locations.

Deer are local so they are there during all seasons.

DEGREE OF PHYSICAL EXERTION: The property is flat farmland to sand hills with roads through the farmland. Minimal exertion as a rule unless walking the sand hills.

Most successful hunting style for whitetail is to watch from cover with vantage point first thing in the morning as the deer return to daytime bedding area, then spot and stalk if needed for mule deer. Whitetail on the other hand are always tree stand or hide and watch whitetail filled areas. The deer tend to eat in agricultural areas during the morning, evening and night, then bed in the many locations of cover during the day. You can bring your own tree stands but they must not harm the trees. Ground blind tents are extraordinarily successful.

Primarily you will be hunting about 3000 acres for Mule Deer or 2000 acres for Whitetail Deer of densely populated deer on private land. If you can shoot you will take a deer home.

It is recommended to bring binoculars and even a spotting scope if available.

The deer are local, so they are always in the area. They do tend to change feeding areas as crops ripen and different feed is available. This provides good hunting during all seasons.

There is no "sighting in" or added shooting on the property. The deer come to the area because of what is available to them and safety. We don't want to spook them from this area if possible. Respect everyone's hunting. The farmer will be on the property during most of the hunts as needed for farming and taking care of details.

Booking process, a deposit of 50% put into escrow will hold your reservations to allow you to get licenses. You must put in for a whitetail if the state is not going to provide you with a internet available Mule Deer License. We cannot second guess the states Mule deer plans so we won't even try to, just say it requires 1-3 points to draw a Mule Deer license. Preference for hunting dates will be given to the hunters that have hunted here the previous year.

Muzzle loader rifle requirements/restrictions, 44 caliber or larger rifle for deer, either sex whitetail, with scopes ok if not lighted inside, sabots and any powder along with electronic triggers ok. As for rifles we approve 25.06 or larger with at least a 117-bullet including the 6.5 Creedmoor caliber. These are big deer and when you shoot one you want them down at the shot. It can be extremely difficult to track one due to the number of deer tracks and trails in the area. We do not require you to shoot a buck over a specific size, you own the trigger and handle what you shoot. Choose your caliber carefully. Draw blood and it is your deer weather you find him or not.

DIY Turkey Hunts are $ 595 with $ 95 for each Tom per hunter for a total of $690

A second Tom is only an added $95.

•Youth Deer Permits are now just..... $8

Many deer from the other properties come and in and winter during the December Muzzleloader season on this property. Many of your larger deer show themselves then because there is less cover available and they are in a wintertime conserve energy mode.

Stores for shopping and supplies are in town 20 miles away is a full service town with shopping and even gun shops and gunsmiths available.
